will focus on three themes: human (Astonishing’ blue whale numbers at South Georgia (The environment can be very challenging in Antarctica. The weather, the conditions that we need

This project could not happen without a team of enthusiastic partners, and we appreciate every

The programme begins with the hoisting of a “Hello” flag, created by artist Peter Liversidge, at

Thanks to Ella Potts for this Adelie shot from Paulet Island.

Update from the scientists

Janeen Haase

Biology

Scientists say they have seen a remarkable collection of blue whales in the coastal waters around

Our

Almost two years on from the launch of this policy we have received 13 reports; some, as you

We had strong winds, some surf landings and a few challenging operations on that particular trip.

I learned how small we are as individuals to this planet and still, how much power we have as a

I don't think there's any other industry that could put together all the things that I love and let me

The UK sub-Antarctic island of South Georgia.

The Antarctic Treaty System, to robustly self-manage and

In 2018 we took the bold move to vote in a system which

Field Staff Newsletter Volume 2

Field Staff Assessment | Helpful hints

FjordPhyto

Sharing the results from the first year of sampling.

Humpback Feeding Super-Aggregation

Field Staff Assessment

Field Staff Assessment | Helpful hints

Humpback Feeding Super-Aggregation

On the IAATO Blog this month...

Humpback Feeding Super-Aggregation

Tara Haase - Expedition Leader and Passenger Services Manager

This month...

Interested in being featured?

IAATO is a member organization founded in 1991 to advocate and promote the practice of

IAATO’s artistic programme - in celebration of the Antarctic Treaty System’s 200th anniversary through art and culture

A note from the editors...

Humpback Feeding Super-Aggregation

Freeze Frame

IAATO Communications Team

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame

Freeze Frame